

Chief Rabbi Mirvis visits Tribe Camp Barak in Scotland!

Chief Rabbi Ephraim Mirvis went to Scotland to visit the participants of Tribe summer Camp Barak (Year 7). Tribe's Scotland camp is one of several summer programmes being run this summer by the United Synagogue to inspire hundreds of young Jews with their Jewish identity. Camps have been taking place across the UK, as well as Belgium, USA and a social responsibility trip to Rwanda.

The Chief Rabbi said,

“To see so many young people of outstanding calibre, celebrating their Judaism with such enthusiasm, confirms for me that we have a great future!”
