

Excitement as Tribe Tour Heads to Israel

Participants on Tribe Israel Tour headed to Israel on Wednesday night for a month filled with fun activities as well as the exciting opportunity to learn more about Zionism, their Jewish identity and their heritage. The tour is supported by UJIA and organised through the Jewish Agency.

Working their way around the country, participants can look forward to jeeping and rappelling at Ramon Crater, snorkelling at Hof Almog and exploring the ancient Old City of Jerusalem. There will also be an opportunity to visit the Kotel and get a totally different view of Israel from a helicopter.

David Collins, Tribe Executive Director, said: “Our group is starting off on a once in a lifetime experience! Each and every one of our participants can look forward to an action packed, fun and meaningful experience. On their return they will have a real sense of what it means to be Jewish and how central and important the Land of Israel is to us”.
