

Gallim- Tribe Gap Year Programme

The new Tribe and IVA gap year programme, Gallim, is the first of its kind in the UK. It gives participants the opportunity to immerse into Israeli society, whilst having time to explore the length and breadth of the country.

Living in the Tel Aviv region, participants will be volunteering for 4 days a week, and learning in Ulpan (Hebrew language school) and Seminars for 1 day a week. Volunteering options will include schools, hospitals, kindergartens or museums.

There will be a strong focus on independent living, whilst being looked after by madrichim (leaders), and there will be organised programmes over some Shabbatot and Chagim with great trips throughout the country.
