

United Friday Nights the Place to be for Young Professionals

Over 250 Young Professionals attended Young US's sold-out United Friday Night at the new US East venue with over 100 speakers and a fantastic night in Suburb US. The event was in partnership with Finchley and Hampstead Garden

This event built on the success of previous United Friday Night dinners which have been growing in popularity in recent months. The wonderful atmosphere, combined with creating an authentic Friday night experience have captured the imagination of Young Professionals as attendances continue to rise.

David Collins, US Director of Young People and Young Families, said: "I'm delighted that Young US is working in partnership with Kinloss and HGS to engage with so many of our younger members in order to connect them to their Judaism. The address and presence of the Chief Rabbi really enhanced the evening."

Finchley US Youth Director, Barry Colman, commented: "As the launch event for 'Kinloss Young Professionals', having 270 people exceeded all expectations in making the evening such a phenomenal success. Thanks must go to Chief Rabbi Mirvis and the Young US team without whom this would not have been possible. We look forward to the next United Friday Night later in the year at HGSS and future YP events at Kinloss."
