

The Tribe Pesach Freedometer

Can we measure freedom? Is it black and white? It's certainly worth a conversation!

The Tribe Pesach Freedometer will bring a new dimension of relevance to your seder table, providing a springboard for discussion about freedom, stretching from the Biblical era in Egypt to the modern times we live in.

As Pesach is the festival of freedom, the aim of this resource is to connect young people to the core dialogue of seder night while encouraging them to consider the meaning and implications of their own freedom.

Tribe is about creating a future for our community through the Tribe Pesach Freedometer, providing a transformative Pesach seder experience.

Chag sameach – Next year in Jerusalem!
