KOSHER APPRENTICE RUNNERS UP!

Ten primary schools took part in Tribe's "Kosher Apprentice" competition this Summer Term. The programme began with a Kashrut 101 run by Tribe in conjunction with KLBD, community rabbis and youth directors. The pupils were then tasked with marketing, designing and creating their own new kosher snack for the summer. Each of the 52 products produced were presented to a panel of judges, who saw some incredible ideas.

WE ARE DELIGHTED TO ANNOUNCE THAT THE OVERALL RUNNER UP OF THE COMPETITION IS "SHVITZERS" FROM IMMANUEL COLLEGE PREPARATORY SCHOOL. ONE OF THE JUDGES, SHARON NAKAR TRIBE EDUCATION EXECUTIVE, SAID THE DESIGN WAS CHOSEN BECAUSE OF "THE PURE ORIGINALITY, HUMOUR AND AMAZING PACKAGING".

Rabbi Moshe Braham, Deputy Head of Immanuel Preparatory School, Director of Jewish Life and Learning said, "The whole idea of Tribe's Kosher Apprentice is a great way to gets kids engaged with learning about kashrut, team work and creative thinking. Year 6 at ICPS took the project very seriously and despite only having one week of relatively short lessons to devote to the project, they pulled out all the stops to learn, research, design and make their products."

Sharon Radley Tribe Head of Education said that it was wonderful to see all Year 6 pupils from all the schools working together on the project with our youth directors and rabbis to not only be inspired but to feel connected to their respective communities.
