PESACH: FREE FOR ALL!

Pesach is a time of freedom. The Jewish people were released from slavery when God took them out of Egypt. Once they were no longer slaves, they were free to make their own decisions and to choose to keep the mitzvot. Pesach is the time to think about our own freedom. We are all slaves to different things; peer pressure, temptation, expectations to name a few. Pesach is the time to free ourselves from our own individual 'Egypt's' and be free to be the person we are capable of being.
